
What You Need to Know about Us Paying Your Overdrafts and Our Overdraft Fees

An overdraft occurs when the available balance of funds in the account you have with us is inadequate to cover a check or electronic transaction (such as with your debit card), but we elect to pay it anyway.

We can cover your overdrafts in two different ways:

1. We have standard overdraft practices called Courtesy Pay that come with the account. They are covered in Provision 6.k. of the MSA Part 2 and this notice.
2. We also offer an overdraft protection service that draws funds from a savings account you have with us, which may be less expensive than our standard overdraft practices. To learn more, ask us about these services or our overdraft plans or read about them in Provision 6.k. of the MSA Part 2.

This notice explains our standard overdraft practices (Courtesy Pay).

What are the standard overdraft practices that come with my account?

We do authorize and pay overdrafts for the following types of transactions:

- Checks and other transactions made using your checking account number
- Automatic bill payments

We do not authorize and pay overdrafts for the following types of transactions unless you ask us to (see below):

- Everyday debit card transactions

We do not authorize and pay overdrafts for ATM transactions.

We pay overdrafts at our discretion, which means we do not guarantee that we will always authorize and pay any type of transaction.

If we do not authorize and pay an overdraft, your transaction will be declined.

What fees will I be charged if you pay my overdraft(s)?

While there is no charge to authorize us to pay your overdrafts, under our standard overdraft practices:

- We will charge you a fee of up to $30.00 each time we pay an overdraft.
- There is no limit on the total fees we can charge you for overdrawing the account (though generally they will be charged for each overdraft transaction we pay on the account).
